

Mistakes
Road 122

Sleepless night
Feeling empty, something useless
I'm overtired
Traffic lights
Walking people, ringing cellphones
All confused
Everynight
Watch the ceiling, staring nowhere
It's a blank view of this life

And tonight I stand alone with my mistakes
Just me and this journey with no destination
Leaving all unnecessary things
Well, sometimes everyone needs to stay with no one

In this car that never brings me far from here
Talk to myself, trying to realize why I'm still over here
Still watching
My mistakes I wish I could go back in time
Only god knows what I could have been

Blindfolded
I only see, what they believe
It's right for me now
This regret
If only had thought with my head
Maybe I'll be fine
Now it's time
To leave behind, all the wrong ways
Regain the control of this life

And tonight I stand alone with my mistakes
Just me and this journey with no destination
Leaving all unnecessary things
Well, sometimes everyone needs to stay with no one

In this car that never brings me far from here
Talk to myself, trying to realize why I'm still over here
Still watching
My mistakes I wish I could go back in time
Only god knows what I could have been

But, think about this
We are so small
Especially under this big sky
Maybe over there
There is somebody like me staring at stars
We have a choice
Boils down to choose either you do or you don't
This is the truth
We must not run away

And tonight I stand with my mistakes
Just me and this journey with no destination
Leaving all unnecessary things
Well, sometimes everyone needs to stay with no one

In this car that never brings me far from here
Talk to myself, trying to realize why I'm still over here
Still watching
My mistakes I wish I could go back in time
Even god knows what I could have been
